

Welcome to the WOWConferenceConnection,
a list serve to further strengthen & expand our community of readers and writers, before and after the conference.

You can use the list serve to:

- Announce publications, literary events, open readings, slams, writer's retreats, writing conferences, workshops, and classes related to the reading and/or writing of fiction and nonfiction.
- Share information about writing contests and other places to submit work.
- Form writing and/or reading groups.
- Arrange your own car-pooling to and from the conference.
- Make contact with someone you met at the conference.

You cannot use the list serve to

- Sell a product.
- Solicit donations for causes.
- Announce events, classes, or workshops unrelated to the art and craft of writing and reading.

The list serve is not intended for commercial activity. WOW! will neither give nor sell email addresses to anyone and we expect list serve subscribers will adhere to the same rules.

As moderator, I'll make sure our guidelines are followed and you may contact me if you have any technical difficulties – I'll see what I can do to help.

To sign up for the list serve, send an email to:

WOWConferenceConnection-subscribe@yahoogroups.com

And enjoy!
